Editorial

Sankar Gangopadhyay
Editor-in-Chief, Brainwave: A Multidisciplinary Journal
Vice Chancellor, Brainware University, Barasat, West Bengal, India
Email: brainwave@brainwareuniversity.ac.in

It is my immense pleasure to announce the publication of Vol. 5 Issue No. 3 of "Brainwave: A Multidisciplinary Journal", published by Brainware University, West Bengal, India. The Journal invites online submissions of articles of different disciplines. The submitted articles are double-blind peer reviewed by renowned reviewers. The Journal ensures reasonable time gap between the submission and final publication. I also take this opportunity to extend my heartfelt thanks and gratitude to the members of both editorial board and editorial advisory board. I am also indebted to our reviewers who have spared their valuable time in this context. I congratulate the authors whose articles have been accepted for publication in this Journal. At the same time it is my earnest appeal to the authors, whose papers have been rejected on account of some shortcomings, not to feel demotivated but try to overcome the shortcomings in order to make their articles publishable.

Our objective is to recommend publication of those articles, which contain novel ideas in different disciplines. Thus, the Journal provides an ideal platform for growth of research in areas of contemporary interest.

Further, we have tried our level best in order to maintain the quality of the Journal. Still, I am of firm belief that constructive suggestions from the readers and the article contributors can help a lot for further improvement of the quality of the Journal.

CC BY-NC-ND 4.0

© Brainware University